

Where and what to eat in Veszprém?

Veszprém offers several options to relieve hunger. We would like to help you choose the best for your taste and interest. Please, go through our suggested places and find the best for yourself!

Breakfast

To break the overnight fast (at RT), please choose from our recommended places for the mornings or for a light meal.

Jakova Bakery

The bakery is located right next to the conference in front of the Központi dormitory. It offers a wide variety of salty and sweet baked goods. It even sells gyros. Really good prices and delicious flavors. It is a place to go.

Lipóti Bakery

The bakery is in the city's main street, the Kossuth Street. Lipóti bakery was founded in 1992 in a small village, called Lipót. Today, Lipóti is one of the biggest bakery chain stores in Hungary. Its specialty is the traditionally made 3 kg (6.6 pound) bread...not for one person, of course.

Gusto Delicate

The shop is right next to the Stop Shop of Veszprém. To get there, it is a 20-minute walk or it is also accessible by car. If you are looking for a morning sandwich with serrano or parma ham and handcrafted Hungarian cheese, this is your place. The shop offers excellent quality coffee and a wide selection of wines and handcrafted beers from Hungary and abroad.

Lunch and dinner

Nothing warms you up better on a chilly autumn evening than a hot meal.

Sport Pub and Restaurant

Sport Pub is one of the most best-known places among university students. Besides the wide variety of beers and shots, it has an excellent cuisine. Looking for some specialty? Try the marrow on toast (velős piritós) with a beer. It sounds odd at first, but you would not regret it!

Pastry shops for sweet-toothed people

Hungarian sweets and cakes are world-famous. We take it really seriously! Every year on the State Foundation Day (20 August) the Cake of Hungary is announced.

Mackó

Mackó, which translates as 'bear' in English, is considered one of the most famous pastry shops in the county. It has decades of tradition of making Hungary's best cakes. Every type is worth a try. The sweet dancing tastes of chocolate and fruits await you among others.

Grand Canyon Pub

Nothing proves the history of the place better than the fact that almost all the retired professors of the university have a tale about what (or what not) happened at the Canyon. Of course, many things have changed, but the Canyon is still regarded as one of the best pubs.

Fészek Pub

There is a term in Hungary: 'checkered tablecloth restaurant'. Well, the cloth is not a necessary piece of equipment. The term means clean atmosphere, simple but lovely meals and a drink of your choice. If you are a regular customer in a place like this, you are recognized once you enter and you get your usual without a word. This is such a place.
